

PRESS RELEASE

Armory5 is pleased to announce the acquisition of All-And-1, effective January 1, 2017. As of that date, All-And-1 is officially conducting business as Armory5, operating in the Albany, New York region.

All-And-1 began serving customers in 2000, with a vision of offering unparalleled IT service for businesses in the Albany and Upstate NY regions. Over the course of All-And-1's 16 years in business, the company forged many long-term partnerships with clients to provide robust technical solutions, on-time service, and proactive communications. Paul Caputo, CEO of All-And-1 believes that the company he started has successfully achieved its vision: "Now is the time to begin creating a new vision; one that produces even greater opportunities for our employees, partners, and most importantly, our customers. This acquisition will benefit our valued customers, as it will significantly enhance our capabilities and allow us to provide a wider array of services," Caputo stated.

The resulting organization will have:

- A core team of 20 highly trained technical operators.
- Centralized help desk with expanded service hours and support.
- A strong portfolio of over 300 clients and partners.
- Expanded service reach to include the North Country, Albany, and Syracuse.
- Highly structured client support environment.
- Access to highly trained and certified technical resources

CEO of Armory5, Tim Cirincione, says: "All-And-1 is everything we wanted for our Albany presence. Not only does the company operate with excellence, but its customers and partners have worked closely for years to build an exceptional brand and technical capability. We are excited to start the year off with such a strong acquisition and look forward to working closely with our new employees and customers."
